Hello

Worked for the same employer for 18 years as the first job out of college

Started a family

Bought my first house

Paid off student loans

Turned 40

Move back home

Family = Free Babysitters

The Mountains are Calling

Great Schools for the Girls

Health Insurance Industry is

THRIVING

The sky is the limit!

JOBS

Sales, account management, and marketing

I truly enjoy the insurance industry

Innovation is on the horizon

A topic that everyone wants to understand

Whether you're a General Agency, like LISI, or a carrier, or a broker.

1

Life on the other side is not as

SCARY

as you'd think

“As I looked out at the world from the comfort of a steady job, the fear of leaving that security behind was almost paralyzing.”

2

STICK to your GUNS

I thought I'd made The Big Decision once and for all, but I've had to keep questioning myself.

The call of the corporate world is loud and alluring

3

NEW OPPORTUNITIES will APPEAR from nowhere

I left my job without knowing exactly what I was leaving for.

But... I was open to unanticipated opportunities from unexpected directions.

4

Not all who WANDER are lost

Life doesn't have to be about:

Finding a Job,

Meeting the One,

Getting a Mortgage,

Having Children...

There's nothing wrong with exploring different paths, meeting new people, living in different cities, traveling the world.

Life doesn't have an end point — well, except death, but I don't think you should be working toward that!

Thank You!
